

Today's Question
Is a vote a coat? Will franchise lead you?

—A. C. Swinburne

The issue of bloc-voting was brought out in the open yesterday and we mean to discuss it factually and historically.

Karr Shannon reported in his Run of the News column of the Arkansas Democrat yesterday that one of McMath's supporters told him the governor would seek a third term and would be re-elected because he would get:

- (1) "The almost solid support of the Negroes."
- (2) "90 per cent of the REA votes."
- (3) "The big bulk of the labor vote," and
- (4) "75 to 85 per cent of the teachers."

Shannon ridiculed the politician and of course this particular set of claims is contradictory in itself.
voted for the governor two years ago. But the bloc-voting issue challenges all your belief in public debate, the secret ballot, and American self-government.

If there were any truth in the combination of claims cited above then there would be no use of writing a single editorial, making a solitary speech, or traveling one mile on the traditional stump tour this summer. Just hold the election, without benefit of debate, count noses in the various "blobs"
— and be done with it.

The only positive expression by the groups themselves which might support the four-bloc setup mentioned by Shannon has come from the Negroes. On Sunday, February 24, at Little Rock Dr. J. M. Robinson, president of the Arkansas Negro Democratic association, called Governor McMath "our little David" — a phrase which hasn't stopped traveling to this day.

Politicians want votes, of course, but they are extremely sensitive to the implications of bloc-voting.
And when some friend pops off with an embarrassing phrase it is called "the kiss of death." Once upon a time it cost a man the Presidency. Here's the story:

In 1884 Republican James G.
Blaine looked like a certain winner over the Democratic nominee, Grover Cleveland. But Blaine while campaigning in upstate New York had the misfortune to be on the same platform with a radical Protestant preacher who was making a talk to the crowd. There was religious feeling between Protestant upstate New York and Catholic New York City, and prohibition was also being discussed.
The radical preacher shook it all up in a hat, and denounced "Rum, Romanism, and Rebellion." Blaine said he was talking to someone on the platform and didn't hear the crack, or he would have denounced the preacher then and there. The story was headlined all over America. Blaine got credit for accepting a Protestant bias support — and it cost him the Presidency.

So bloc-voting isn't merely an insult to the individual citizen's intelligence — it's poor politics. It has been proven a thousand times.
But a newspaper's concern is for its individual readers and fellow citizens. What kind of citizen is a man who puts his race or religion or occupation before all other questions? Since these things do not change, he has placed himself in the position of never debating anything. He then becomes in fact the very thing he doesn't want to be — a second-class citizen.

It would have no meaning for him if somebody made off with the state capitol dome last night.
I don't believe any group of people are that stupid.

The reason a newspaper prints thousands of words in fact-reports every day about government — highways, schools, courts, and all the rest — is so the people will know what's going on; and they're supposed to have something to say when election day rolls around.

They say it personally, if they're citizens — they don't hide behind a bloc.

As regards Negro citizens this bloc idea isn't any newer than among the whites; it spells machine politics and bad government — and you can expect a newspaper to come out spouting hell regardless what your color is.

Framed at the front door all the years I've owned this newspaper is a letter. It's signed by the late C. J. Mooney, famous editor and publisher of the Memphis Commercial Appeal. The date is August 31, 1928 — 26 years ago. I was a young editorial writer at El Dorado, and had sent Mr. Mooney a piece congratulating him on Tennessee Governor Peay's victory over the Memphis machine. Mooney's reply said:

"I have your clipping and I thank you for it. You are certainly very good to me. The fact is, the machine in Shelby (county) killed about 7,000 voters."
You will find on consulting newspapers that at that time the Shelby county machine's bloc-voting of Negroes. The machine had plenty of white blocs, of course — but that time it had to make out and vote Negroes in the name of the slaves.

Protect Crops Through PMA Program

Federal Crop Insurance on Cotton against the production risks which man cannot control is strictly a nonprofit program designed to give growers basic protection of their business enterprise at the lowest possible cost. Earl Martin-dine, PMA County Committeeman points out.

Application for this all-risk protection of the 1932 crop investment can be made through the county PMA office or one of its agents.

Premiums paid by producers for Federal Crop Insurance protection are used only to pay losses to farmers who have the misfortune to lose their cotton crops through no fault of their own. Favorable loss experience in the county that results in an accumulation of premiums over losses paid to Hemstead County farmers will make it possible to reduce the cost of this protection. Some reserve must, of course, be accumulated to cover catastrophic losses before it is sound business to reduce the cost of the protection.

"I think farmers should recognize that this protection is worth far more than its annual cost to them," Mr. Martinidine states.

"The premium that they pay is established at a level that is intended to cover only the risk of loss under the Federal Crop Insurance policy.
The expenses of operating the program are appropriated each year by Congress as a service to farmers. Congress has provided farmers the machinery for building a program of protection of their crop investments and is providing the cost of operating that machinery.
Farmers certainly should feel that

Three Hope Men Officially File as Candidates

Little Rock, March 20 (AP) — Tom Downie of Little Rock says he will seek renomination for a second term as prosecuting attorney for the 6th district, serving Pulaski and Perry counties.

In other political action yesterday, James E. Hyatt of Osceola withdrew from the prosecuting attorney's race in the 2nd judicial district.

Filing for State Senate, District 7, were incumbent Dr. F. C. Crow and Andy Andrews, insurance man both of Hope.

And Lyne Brown, of Hope, former prosecuting attorney for the 8th judicial district, filed as a candidate for circuit judge from that district.

Predicts Quick Approval of Jap Treaty

Washington, March 20 (AP) — The Senate today begins voting on the Japanese Peace Treaty. Some predict it will be ratified before nightfall.

Some opposition to the treaty and its three accompanying Pacific security pacts — with Japan, the Philippines, and Australia and New Zealand — developed among Republican senators yesterday.

But Democratic Leader McFarland remained confident they would be approved by well over the necessary two-thirds majority.

The Senate will vote first on a motion by Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill.) to postpone consideration of the treaty indefinitely.

There will be an hour of debate on this. Then will come half-hour debates on each of nine resolutions submitted by Sen. Jenner (R-Ind.) and Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Me.). An hour is allowed on the ratification resolution itself.

Leaders predicted all this time would not be used, particularly if opponents of the treaty muster little support.

If the Senate approves the treaty, only one more nation's ratification will be needed to put it into effect.
Five of the 13 countries involved already have ratified.

The peace treaty was signed at San Francisco Sept. 8, six years after Japan's surrender. Russia and her satellites refused to sign.

Jenner says his reservations are designed to preserve the sovereignty of the United States, and the war-making powers of Congress.
He objects to references to the United Nations in the treaty and security pacts.

Dirksen and Sen. Young (R-ND), who spoke against the treaty yesterday, raised these other objections: (1) When Japan regains its sovereignty it is likely to resume trade relations with China, even though that nation is under Communist control; (2) the ratification is premature until peace is secured in Korea and Manchuria; (3) many of America's World War II allies in the Pacific fear a resurgent Japan; and (4) Nationalist China was not treated fairly because it was not invited to the San Francisco meeting.

However, the treaty and security pacts have had powerful bipartisan support including all seven Democratic and 20 Republican Senators. The Foreign Relations Committee reported the treaty and

High School and Paisley 4-H Clubs Hold Meet

Hope High School and Paisley 4-H clubs met separately this week with the county agents leading demonstrations.

The high school boys viewed a film on prevention of Bang disease while Mrs. Lorraine Blackwood, demonstration agent, gave the girls recipes for cup cakes.

At Paisley Betty Powell led group singing while James Gathier reviewed activities of the last meeting. The county agents gave demonstrations.

The club voted to hold a track meet April 5 at 10 a. m. in Fair Park coliseum.

Claud Sutton in Race for County Judge

Claud H. Sutton today formally announced as a candidate for the County Judge of Hemstead County subject to the action of this summer's Democratic primary elections.

Mr. Sutton is the present Sheriff of this county and is completing his sixth year in that office. Prior to his election as Sheriff Mr. Sutton served as a deputy under former Sheriff Frank J. Hill.

Mr. Sutton is the owner and operator of the Sutton Livestock Commission Sale Barn in Hope which is one of the major industries in the county.

In making his formal announcement for County Judge, Mr. Sutton
said:

"The County Judge is the chief business officer of the county — in other words, the business manager.
If I am elected to the position, I shall attempt to conduct the affairs of Hemstead County in a sound, business-like manner. I believe that my background as a business man will stand me in good stead in my attempt to accomplish that end.

"I shall give the county road program special study and special attention. The people in rural area are entitled to good county roads.
I believe Hemstead County can have them.

"The County Judge is also the presiding judge of the Hemstead County Juvenile Court. That court deals with children who are accused of law violations. I am a parent and have had extensive experience in dealing with juveniles as sheriff, and I believe that background will prove valuable to me as the judge of the Juvenile Court. That is one of the most important duties of the County Judge although it is often overlooked. As sheriff I have attempted to 'save' boys and girls who were unfortunate in running afoul of the law, and not condemn them to a life of law violation as hardened criminals. Children have to be handled differently from adult offenders.

"I will deeply appreciate the support and influence of every citizen of Hemstead County if elected I shall try to make a good County Judge."

Fulton Union Church Benefit Scheduled Friday

benefit supper with serving to start at 5:30 p. m. Friday and at 7:30 a "Womanless Wedding" will get underway.

pairs to the church. Plates will cost 75 cents each.

will be F. L. Waldron, C. O.
Temple, Jack Brown, J. K. Harrison, Cecil and Kenneth Cox, Bill Varnar, Henry Davis, Penny Varnar, and Graham Varnar.

Truman Calls in Wilson to Air Steel Dispute

Washington, March 20 (AP)—President Truman summoned Defense Mobilizer Charles J. Wilson to Key West, Fla., today to discuss the steel wage dispute, after wage board deliberations were halted by the physical collapse of the board chairman.

Nathan P. Feinsinger, chairman of the government's wage Stabilization Board (WSB), who has been working night and day on the case, in an effort to avert a strike set for midnight Sunday, keeled over about 5:30 o'clock this morning.

A physician said Feinsinger collapsed from fatigue and the board recessed until 1 p. m. The unexpected delay posed a serious problem, in view of the imminence of the strike deadline.

Wilson's office told a reporter there was a "good chance" that the defense mobilization chief would fly to the Little White House at Key West late this afternoon.

Andrew Berding, Wilson's public relations chief, said Wilson had been called by President Truman to go over all the issues bearing on the threatened strike by 630,000 CIO United Steelworkers.

At Key West today, Truman told a news conference he did not want to comment since the matter is still in the hands of the wage board.

Phillip Murray, union chief and president of the CIO, met this morning with his 36-man executive board in what Murray described as a purely informal session.

Murray's 170-man wage policy committee was here for a scheduled afternoon meeting to act on a request to postpone the threatened strike at least until April 8. How-

Says Economy Can't Be Disturbed

Washington, March 20 (AP) — A Senate watchdog committee says a "don't disturb the civilian economy" policy dominates the nation's rearmament program.

The result, it said, has been the production of "a small number of guns and a great amount of butter, with a considerable number of lollippops thrown in."

The Senate Armed Services Preparedness Investigating Committee last night made public a report of investigations made since it started work in July, 1950, soon after outbreak of the Korean War. It said investigations showed this about the mobilization program:

"Deliveries on defense hard goods—planes, tanks, ammunition and guns—had fallen dangerously behind schedule; so much so that the chances of reaching the minimum preparedness targets within the time set by our military planners seemed remote."

One basic cause for this, the committee, said, is "failure of our responsible officials" to give weapons needs top claim on the nation's industrial capacity.

And back of this the committee found "apathy" among some government agencies. "Those responsible for the nation's current rearmament program lack the sense of urgency that has previously goaded Americans into their tremendous preparedness achievements," it said.

District Christian Service Women Hold Meet Here

Members of the executive board of the women's Society of Christian Service of the Hope District gathered recently in the District Parsonage in Hope.

Mrs. L. E. Tuley, district president, presided over the meeting.
Mrs. Gus Orr, district secretary of spiritual life led in prayer which was followed by prayer from all officers.

On the agenda was the discussion of the district work followed by reports of the district officers on their work.

Luncheon was served at the noon hour by Mrs. E. D. Galloway to fourteen members. Guests at the luncheon were Rev. E. D. Galloway, Rev. Claude Clarke, and Mrs.
Virgil Keeley.

Minstrel Postpones Roundup Club Meet

Due to the first showing of the Kiwanis Minstrel tonight at 8 o'- clock, the regular meeting of the Hope Roundup Club will not be held. It was announced.

Eisenhower Now Willing to Actively Campaign; Up to Him, Truman Says

Ike at Liberty to Return at Own Request

Key West, Fla., March 20 (AP)— President Truman said today Gen.
Dwight D. Eisenhower is at liberty to return to the United States any time he deems it safe and proper.

The President told a news conference the general is doing an able job and is the best judge of when it will be safe for him to give up his post.

Truman also told newsmen the Korean situation has no bearing whatever on whether he will seek re-election.

Presidential Bidders Work Wisconsin

Wisconsin Rapids, Wis., March 20 (AP)—Winding up his first day of campaigning in Wisconsin, Sen.
Estes Kefauver of Tennessee cut down on his wordage last night so he could shake more hands.

Kefauver, who has slipped his coonskin cap into the Democratic presidential ring and into Wisconsin's April 1 primary, put aside his prepared speech, declaring he was pressed for time in order to meet personally as many as he could in his audience of 2,200.

Among the Republican presidential candidates in the state, last night, Sen. Robert Taft of Ohio kept up his criticism of the administration's foreign policy and Harold Stassen hit again at Taft's foreign policy.

Kefauver told his audience at Wisconsin Rapids' Lincoln Field House that "this is a time of tremendous challenge. I know the people of the United States can outdo the slave people any time.
We want to convince the people of the world their best course lies with us."

Taft poked anew at the administration's foreign policy before an overflow crowd of 1,000 in the Central School Auditorium at Superior.
Asked what he thought about "McCarthyism," he replied that so far as he knew it was a "smear tactic used by enemies of Sen. Mc-Carthy (R-Wis.)."

"McCarthy was more than justifified in asking for an investigation of Communist influences in the State Department," Taft said.
"Those who conducted the investigation of McCarthy's charges looked into the status of only four people and spent the rest of the time mostly investigating Mc-Carthy." Taft did not name the four persons.

Stassen told a Milwaukee GOP ward meeting Taft had said Tuesday night that instead of the Atlantic Treaty and the Mutual Assistance Pact he had wanted America to make a definite declaration to Russia that it she attacked any one of those European countries she would find herself at war with the United States.

Taft's policy, said Stassen, would result "in keeping those Western European countries weak."

"But then he (Taft) would say to Russia that if Russia attacks these weak countries, Russia will find herself at war with America," Stassen stated, adding:

"I submit that this is an unsound, impractical, unwise foreign policy. President Truman left Korea weak and endangered. Then when the Communists attacked he rushed into the Korean war."

Gov. Earl Warren of California is slated to arrive at Milwaukee tonight and renew his presidential campaign in Wisconsin Friday, starting at Racine.

Gen. Eisenhower's astonishing 106,788 vote showing in Minnesota's primary Tuesday—all write-in—set off bidding yesterday for "Ike" supporters in Wisconsin's primary.

Stassen quickly renewed his invitation to Eisenhower admirers to support him, claiming his views most nearly parallel the general's.
Ralph Immer, state leader of the Warren campaign, retorted that the California governor is the true Eisenhower candidate in Wisconsin. A Taft spokesman said Taft interpreted Eisenhower's big write-in tally as an indication of Stassen weakness rather than Taft strength.

Eisenhower is not entered in Wisconsin's primary and write-in votes will not count.

Before the primary, Stassen said, "Ike" would be a "write-in candidate."

Stassen said he would not contend for the preference vote, it appeared that his name would remain on the ballot since the deadline for formal withdrawal has
passed.

Taft said, however, as he ordered closing of his state headquar-

Taft Quits Primary in New Jersey

Washington, March 20 (AP)—Senator Taft said today he has decided to withdraw from New Jersey's Republican presidential preference primary.

The primary is April 15.
Taft said he was withdrawing because Gov. Alfred Driscoll "has broken his word" in endorsing Gen.
Eisenhower for the GOP presidential nomination "and has obviously taken steps to corrupt the intent of the preference primary."

The New Jersey contest had been expected to provide another test of strength between Taft and Eisenhower, following Eisenhower's triumph over the Ohio senator in New Hampshire's primary March 11.

Last Monday Driscoll and other New Jersey Republican leaders announced support of Eisenhower for the nomination.

In a statement today, put out by his campaign headquarters, Taft
said:

"Reversing his previous position, Governor Driscoll announced his open support of General Eisenhower... and one of his leading political associates, Lloyd B. Marsh, secretary of state, said at the same time that the state Republican organization will actively campaign for the election of Gen.
Eisenhower."

"This can only mean that the Republican workers and party members in New Jersey will feel in no uncertain degree the pressure and power of both the state organization and the governor. It is an atmosphere in which there cannot be a fair contest in New Jersey's presidential preferential
primary."

Taft had planned to tour New Jersey the week of April 7.
The state has 38 votes at the Republican presidential nominating convention.

Former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota is also entered in the New Jersey primary.

While Taft said he would not contend for the preference vote, it appeared that his name would remain on the ballot since the deadline for formal withdrawal has
passed.

Taft said, however, as he ordered closing of his state headquar-

DOROTHY DIX

Servicemen Change

Dear Miss Dix: My boy friend is in the service. I love him very much and before he left he was also very much in love with me. He has returned from overseas and seems completely changed. He does date me occasionally, but also goes out with several other girls. Should I give him up entirely or hope he'll come back to steady dating with me? I am 17.
FLORA

Answer: A girl who dates a boy in service is confronted with many problems unique to her position. Her older sister had the same troubles in the last war: her mother had them in World War I. They will probably continue to the end of time, unless the united prayers of an overburdened people finally become sincere enough to reach the throne of God.

At 17 a girl is slightly overwhelmed with the glamour of having a soldier (or sailor or marine) sweetheart, yet she is far too young to carry the responsibility incurred by the association. The relationship no longer is a question of boy-and-girl dating.

He Becomes Mature
The boy who kisses his girl goodbye before taking off for foreign lands will become a man almost before he leaves the ship. He is adult long before he would have achieved the status had he stayed at home. The girl, on the other hand, remains home, insulated against the rigors of the outside world, and changes little. When her beau returns, she is shocked if he has changed—as he is bound to do. In your case Flora, your sweetheart just outgrew you. He is home to find you still a child while he pictures himself as a sophisticated man of the world. What normally happens next is that you will grow up and he will grow down a little as the home atmosphere brings him back to normalcy. When you meet on common ground again all will be well.

It is also possible that he went away believing himself in love with you, but found out that absence, instead of making hearts grow fonder, causes them to wander. If he has lost his affection for you, there's nothing you can do but philosophically accept the situation and find new boy friends. At 17, this is easy, though it may not seem so to you at the time.

All girls whose sweethearts or boy friends are leaving home for Uncle Sam should be prepared to do a little temporizing until the period of service is over. Don't make rash promises about not going with other boys unless a formal engagement exists between you. Maintain a good social life, as much for your boy friend's sake as your own. For one thing, you'll have more interesting news if you don't isolate yourself during his absence, and you'll also help to keep up his contacts at home while seeing him.

tual friends. Above all, you'll be prepared to continue life on a normal basis if he should return with a changed heart.

Dear Miss Dix: My trouble is that I'm not as free with my affections as other girls in our crowd, and consequently don't have many dates. I am 15 and underweight, and my mother thinks that's the cause of my difficulty. I don't like to tell her the truth.
DIANE B.L.

Answer: Your mother wants to help you, Diane, and you should take advantage of her understanding. Explain your difficulty to her; in her dating days she probably went through the same experience and be assured, her advice can be relied upon. If gaining weight is also a problem, have your mother take you to the family doctor for a thorough check-up and advice.

Dear Miss Dix: My boy friend recently broke off with me, giving no reason. I am heart sick over the affair, as I thought a lot of him. We hadn't been going together very long. I am a nervous person and wonder if that might have had some thing to do with his decision. Also, we didn't have too many interests in common.
WINNIE

Answer: You give three excellent reasons for a break-up: a short acquaintance, during which you probably led your boy friend to suspect that you were serious about

U. S. Soon to Rule on Price Controls

Washington, March 20 (AP)—The government hopes to decide in the next week or 10 days whether to lift price controls in a half-dozen major raw product fields, including wool and cotton.

Price Stabilizer Ellis Arnall told the Senate Banking Committee yesterday the Office of Price Stabilization hopes within two weeks to publish a statement on price control suspension policy, along with a preliminary set of standards.

He added that the first lifting of controls might come at the same time.

On the other hand, he said it may soon become necessary to place fresh fruit and vegetables under price controls if their prices continue to increase.
OPS officials said the first suspension actions might take place in five or six experimental areas. These might be actual suspension of controls or recommendations for close study in these fields. Among the products named were wool, cotton, hides, tallow, lard and edible fats and oils.

him; your nervousness, which may have made you demanding even though you didn't realize it, and a lack of common interests, which is the deadly enemy of a boy-girl friendship. Perhaps you won't get this boy back, but why not try to stabilize yourself in readiness for the next romance that enters your life?

Farmers May Plant More Soybeans

Washington, March 20 (AP)—Arkansas farmers are planning on planting more rice and soybeans than they did last year. But they'll plant less of several other crops.

This outlook developed in a government planting survey which indicated that farmers in the nation as a whole may fall short of a record production goal urged by Secretary of Agriculture Brannan. The indicated Arkansas acreage for this year and the per cent such acreage is of last year's important crops:

Corn 1,031,000 acres and 98 per cent.

Rice 470,000 and 109.
Peanuts 9,000 and 82.
Soybeans 480,000 and 130.
Potatoes 12,000 and 58.
Sweet potatoes 6,000 and 66.

In 1915 an earthquake caused Nevada mountain to grow 50 ft, says the NOS.

Union Calls

an effort to avert a strike set for midnight Sunday, began over at about 8:30 a.m. (CST).

A physician was called and reported Feinsinger collapsed from fatigue.

The board then recessed until 1 p.m.

The industry was facing the problem of closing down furnaces lest the threatened weekend walkout leave the equipment without workers to attend it.

Doctors said Feinsinger apparently would be able to continue the negotiations this afternoon.

Earlier the WBSI was deadlocked on the union shop issue.

Industry and labor members could not agree during the all-right meeting to a proposal by public members that would straddle the union shop problem.

Fein Nulton, board vice chairman told reporters no votes were taken during the night.

Asked whether he thought the board would be able to reach a solution in the steel dispute, Nulton replied:

"We see some hope of getting together."

Nulton told reporters that he expected the 48-year-old Feinsinger to be in shape for the afternoon meeting. Feinsinger was back on his feet within a short time after his collapse.

lers and instructed workers not to contest in New Jersey in his behalf.

Taft declared the action of New Jersey Republican leaders "directly repudiates the position taken by the governor in recent weeks," and added:

"The latest example of his Driscoll's neutrality is his public statement of last Wednesday. This was the final day under the New Jersey statutes for withdrawal. Thus, up to the very last opportunity on my part to withdraw or take any other action the governor maintained his show of neutrality. At that time, Gov. Driscoll was asked whether he favored any particular candidate, and he said, 'I can't shut the door in anybody's face by making any announcement.'"

"On Monday night, March 17, five days after the deadline, he reversed his position of March 12 by announcing his open support of Eisenhower."

"Taft said a preference primary means that voters 'are free to state a preference, irrespective of the state machine, which is supported by all Republicans financially and is for the benefit of the entire party membership.'"

He said Driscoll "actually seeks to destroy the theory, purpose and practice of the preferential primary in his state, in his own interest, whatever that may be."

Grunther to Talk Before Committee

Paris, March 20 (AP)—Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, chief of staff to General Eisenhower's Supreme Allied Headquarters in Europe, will take off tomorrow to testify before foreign aid hearings in Congress.

SHAPE officially announced his plans today.

Gruenther will fly, with one or two staff officers, in one of the two four-engine planes assigned for the use of Eisenhower and his staff.

He is expected to appear early next week before congressional committees studying President Truman's request for $7,000,000,000 in foreign aid.

Some senators and congressmen have asked that Eisenhower himself fly back to testify on the foreign aid program, but he has so far indicated that he did not wish

National Guards Have New Insignia

Little Rock, March 20 (AP)—The insignia of the Arkansas National Guard's 153rd Infantry Regiment has been revised slightly to indicate the unit's World War II service.

A bear's head has been added, showing the regiment's Alaskan service in the war.

The 153rd is part of the 30th Arkansas National Division.

Mt. Etna Shaken by Earthquake

Catania, Sicily, March 19 (AP)—Walls crumpled and one person was crushed to death today when an earthquake shook the historic Mt. Etna area.

Scores were injured. Damage was widespread.

Santa Venerina, east of the famous Sicilian volcano, was shattered. Many were injured and homes were demolished.

Pieri and Milo were other towns which suffered heavily.

At Zafferana, south of volcanic Mt. Etna, a house collapsed, causing the only fatality so far reported.

The shock was so powerful that it could even be felt here in Catania.

At Trieste, the Geo-Physical Institute reported a powerful earthquake took place after midnight—at 7:30 p. m. CST Tuesday—with its epicenter about 600 miles away, probably in Romania. A sharp quake was reported in central Korea at 3:25 a.m. CST.

Messadeh Says Truman Blocked Loan

Tehran, Iran, March 19 (AP)—Premier Mohammed Mossadeh has accused President Truman of blocking loans to Iran because the Iranians would not agree to British terms for settlement of the Anglo-Iranian oil dispute.

The Iranian Premier made his charge in a speech read for him yesterday to a group of 44 American news and radio executives and their wives, now visiting here.

Mossadeh said he applied for a U. S. loan last fall, while visiting Washington.

The expression "Tell it to the Marines" is believed to have originated when Charles II of England was told about flying fish for the first time and turned to an officer of the marines to confirm the story.

Two Labor Disputes Remain Unsettled

By The Associated Press

Arkansas' two latest labor disputes remained unsettled today.

Federal Conciliator C. A. Wheeler of Little Rock met yesterday with representatives of the struck Dixie Cup Co. Plant at Ft. Smith and the striking AFL Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Workers Union.

Later a company spokesman said the situation was unchanged. The plant closed after the union struck Sunday and set up picket lines in support of wage demands.

There has been no settlement of a without, which started Monday, of some 225 AFL iron workers at the government defense project under construction next to the Pine Bluff Arsenal.

The iron workers have stayed away from work in what was described as a jurisdictional dispute with a union.

State Police Accused of 'Third Degree'

Little Rock, March 19 (AP)—A suit charging that the Arkansas State Police used "third degree" methods to obtain a confession from a suspect has been transferred to U. S. District Court here.

The suit, filed by E. R. Stephens of Georgetown, White County, alleges that he was beaten with a rubber hose in State Police headquarters here. The suit was transferred to Federal Court because Stephens charges that his civil rights have been violated.

Stephens accused Newman Reese, investigator for the National Automobile Theft Bureau, of beating him with the rubber hose while Lt. H. R. Peterson, chief criminal investigator for the State Police, looked on. He said he was forced to sign a confession that he set fire to an automobile, insured by the Motors Insurance Corp., of New York.

Named defendants along with Reese and Peterson were the insurance firms and the theft bureau and Sgt. R. E. Brown and Trooper Bill Miller of the State Police.

Stephens has been cleared of the arson charge.

Chicago Cubs to Depend on Rookie Hitting

Mesa, Ariz., March 19 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs, in the best spring condition in years, will be counting on the long ball-hitting potential of a rookie outfielder and a flick of sophomore slab talent to pull them out of the National League cellar in 1932.

Bob Rush, the elongated right-hander who was the winningest Cub pitcher in 1931 with 11 victories, is believed by Cub pitching Coach Charlie Root to be on the verge of achieving greatness. He posted a .379 earned run average in 37 games last year.

It's up to the rest of the youngsters to prove themselves. Last year's experience may bring results.

Without very much new talent, Manager Phil Cavarretta's main hope of making a better showing is that he can instill more hustle into his shaky lineup of veterans and youngsters.

Phil, a 31-year-old first baseman look over from Frankel Frisch at the midpoint of last season. At least, he has a running start this season. He expects to play 60 to 70 games himself. If Dee Fondy proves himself a major leaguer,

HSTC, Teachers to Play Turkey Day

Arkadelphia, March 19 (AP)—Henderson has filled the Thanksgiving date left open on its football schedule when the traditional game with Ouachita was canceled.

The Reddies and Arkansas State Teachers College have signed a 2-year home-and-home Turkey day agreement, with the 1932 game to be played at Conway and the 1933 tilt at Arkadelphia.

Phil will be able to do less playing. Fondy, a good man in the field who hit .378 for Los Angeles after being sent down by the Cubs last season, is getting another chance to make good.

The Cub infield will have plenty of experience, with either Ransom Jackson or Bill Sereno at third; the veteran Roy Smalley at short; and the ex-Brooklyn handyman Eddie Miksis at second.

Ron Northey, the former St. Louis Cardinal, Cincinnati Red and Philadelphia Phillie, could help the Bruins if his knee holds out. Always a long ball-hitter, Northey was voluntarily retired last season for an operation on his left knee. He says he's ready to nail down the right field berth.

Hammering Hank Sauer, Bob Usher, Bob Addis, Gene Herman, Hal Jeffcoat, Rookie Harvey Gentry, Brinkopf and White Sox castoff Jack Wallace are all battling for outfield spots.

Madrid—Approaching the end of a long, hard tour of Europe I am pessimistic almost to absolute despair and my only comfort is rage against the rascals who betray my country into this terrible peril.

I mean Franklin D. Roosevelt, Harry Truman, Harry Hopkins and the whole evil pack of palace guards and conspirators, the Communist proteges of Felix Frankfurter who secretly infested our government like disease-bearing lice, and the trifling, impudent mercenaries of the typical democratic state, county and ward machines.

He won a war at the expense of many thousands of young men killed in the bloom of their youth. God alone can sum up the other sacrifices which our people made under the treacherous leadership of men and women who were not innocently mistaken but intentionally bad. Yet, at this moment, we find that rude, uncouth, ignorant man, as Bernard Baruch called Truman in a moment of unwelcome courage which failed him, however, were cock-crow standing for election to a third presidential term on a record of disaster.

We find ourselves slaves to our own elected agents in Congress who, like the insipid, twittering party puppets of the British House of Commons, have killed the soul of representative popular government, preserving only hollow-eyed corpse. In their arrogance, they voted themselves a tax-exempt $2,500 raise in pay disguised as an expense allowance. Truman himself, frankly pleading that he never had a chance to make a stake before, clings to a similar graft of $200,000, free and clear, for the term which is about to expire. In addition, the great cabal casually appropriated $2,500 to make a gold medal for Vice President Alben Barkley in token of their friendship for a bawling old parasite who had earned only the contempt of better men.

In Rome, a few days ago, a typical State Department bureaucrat, Lloyd Free, the director of the blood-sucking United States information service for Italy, had the honesty to admit that the reason why he and his futile but expensive layout are there, fighting the Communists with leaflets and narrow-gauge movies is that the political scoundrels and fools who followed behind our victorious troops deliberately handed over the victory to the Communists, who came out of the ruins claiming to have been brave "partisans" and "martyrs" under fascism. The truth is that the best people of Italy, including most of the patriots, and millions of the workers had been ardent Fascists. Whether they liked it or not, and it was none of our business, fascism was the legitimate Italian form of government just as the republic is ours. But no. We had decided that fascism must go. Many Fascists opposed the venture into war against the United States and the fatal alliance with Germany. These were the real partisans of the underground. But as Lloyd Free readily admitted, "after the war, the Communists rushed in to grab all the money, all the printing presses, all the public buildings and union headquarters in the country."

Now we are fighting a feeble petty war of repartee through broadcasts to a people three-fifths of whom do not own radios. And down at Naples, Admiral Robert B. Carney, in command of a combined naval, military and air force which is still largely theoretical, is trying to organize a restraining cordon to keep at bay the enemy who owes his very existence to the late Roosevelt. This is a mighty enemy, strong in all the arms of war except perhaps naval, which might not be brought to bear, anyway. By all accounts, he could lick us and all our friends in Europe were he to jump this very day. He is so strong in the air that he undoubtedly could blast New York to hell. But our airmen have beautiful uniforms and the sergeants and officers get the highest pay in the history of military service.

A man who once held a position of the highest prestige in Italy told me that he had pleaded with American and British political generals—as distinguished from the fighting generals—who followed on after our dead were buried to put no trust in the Italian Communists. But they wouldn't listen. Roosevelt and his wife had said that fascism was bad. Communism wasn't bad. Roosevelt and Stalin had "got along" very well at Tehran and his wife had entertained Communists in the White House and taunted the committee on un-American activities for exposing her protegee, Joe Lash. So paltry masqueraders, coming along with stars on their shoulders, ignored the most competent patriotic Italians and turned over our victory to the Communists.

In France, traitors now came out claiming to have been bold, brave fighters in the "underground." Tens of thousands of Frenchmen and women were put to death in prompt on the accusations of such criminals. So today the French Communist party is a dagger poised between the shoulder blades of our seventh army in Germany.

Spain, under Franco, had recognized the enemy and driven him out after a terrible civil war. For this blow to Roosevelt's friend,

Says Careers Open in South to Negroes

Pine Bluff, March 19 (AP)—A North Carolina manufacturing executive said today he wasn't sure that it was better for Southern Negroes to go North in search of a career.

"Is it really true," asked Ivan L. Willis in an address prepared for delivery at Career Day at Arkansas AM & N College, "that a career aimed at success in northern industry is more rewarding than a career aimed at success in the South or working with social problems of the Negroes?"

Willis is vice president in charge of industrial relations for International Harvester Company.

He told his audience at the state-supported Negro college that they might feel freer in some respects in the North by reason of the laws and prevailing social customs.

"Nevertheless," he added, "there remain the problems of housing, job opportunities and many others. It isn't a perfect picture."

He observed that in recent years it had become progressively easier for Negroes to obtain jobs traditionally held by other races and achieve success and recognition.

Willis suggested that the South offers rich fields for Negroes. He cited education, agriculture, medical and dental care, business and general health as opportunities.

He said that because of a noticeable reluctance on the part of Negro people to establish their own businesses, "great opportunities exist in the field of business within the framework of the Negro community."

Citing changes in southern farming from a one-crop level to diversification, Willis suggested that soil conservation practice offers both social and financial rewards to the capable farmer with vision.

Ike Keeps Up With Elections

Paris, March 19 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower kept up via news agency dispatches today with the write-in vote he was getting in the Minnesota Republican primary, but made no comment.

Aides took the dispatches from teleprinters installed at Eisenhower's Atlantic Pact military headquarters near Paris and delivered them to the general's office.

One reporter asked whether the general would regard the Minnesota vote as the "clear-cut call to political duty," he has said must come before he will leave his job as supreme Allied commander in Europe.

"I doubt that the general will have anything to say on that subject today," a high-ranking officer replied.

Republicans in Dixie Favor Taft

Atlanta, March 19 (UP) — Sen. Robert A. Taft holds a substantial lead today in the fight for Dixie's Republican convention votes, but Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's backers are making a strong bid in several states.

A United Press survey of 10 Southern states shows Taft running ahead in at least six with Eisenhower holding the edge in one. The outcome in three others is doubtful.

Supporters of the Ohio senator control the GOP party machinery in most Southern states and are making an all-out effort to deliver the votes.

But like supporters are challenging Taft's control in a number of states and appear to be making some headway in their uphill fight to capture convention votes for the general.

Southern Eisenhower leaders plan a strategy huddle here Saturday under the leadership of John Minor Wisdom of New Orleans. Rep. Hugh Scott (R-Pa.), former national GOP committee chairman, will attend. The UP survey gave this picture of the situation:

North Carolina and Florida already have selected their convention delegates with Taft holding a majority in both states.

In Florida, Taft supporters claim 16 delegates against only one for Eisenhower and one uncommitted. North Carolina Republicans completed their 26-man delegation yesterday with 12 delegates reported favorable to Taft, five for Eisenhower and nine uncommitted.

Georgia has the only Republican organization which is controlled by the forces, the survey disclosed. Its leaders say all but "two or three" of the state's 17 delegates will probably cast their votes for the general.

However, a rival pro-Taft GOP faction appears likely to send a contesting delegation to the national convention from Georgia.

Mississippi's four votes and South Carolina's six are considered safely in the Taft column.

Tennessee's 30 delegates also are expected to go for Taft. State Chairman Guy L. Smith of Knoxville has pledged the senator the state's delegation.

Eisenhower supporters are challenging entrenched Taft leaders in Texas, Louisiana and Virginia.

The Eisenhower movement in Virginia is headed by Banker Thomas C. Boushall and a showdown will come May 31 when the state convention meets.

GOP leaders in Texas are solidly behind Taft while the Eisenhower movement is headed by Jack Porter, a former Democrat. Porter hopes "Independent" Republicans will control precinct and county meetings in May which will select delegates to the state convention.

Dixie Division to Maneuvers

Shaw Air Force Base, S. C. March 19 (AP) — Combat-equipped troops of the 31st (Dixie) Infantry Division climbed into troop carrier planes here early today bound for games in Texas.

The Air Force described the 1,000-mile air lift of 8,100 men and heavy equipment as the largest of its kind ever attempted.

Rebellion Seed Sown Years Ago

Washington, March 19 (UP) — The party rebellion which Georgia's Sen. Richard B. Russell leads today was invited nearly 16 years ago by a roll call in a Democratic national convention.

The act was the 1930 Philadelphia convention at which Franklin D. Roosevelt was nominated unopposed for a second term. The seed of trouble sown there was a change in the rules by vote of the convention.

The rule then abolished had, for many years required a two-thirds majority for the nomination of a Democratic presidential candidate. The Philadelphia convention decided that a simple majority would be sufficient thenceforth.

The South had a usually effective

Henry Swefel, said Taft forces picked up strength because of the senator's recent visit to the state. He predicts 30 of the 38 delegates will be pledged to Taft.

Eisenhower forces in Louisiana are making a major bid to grab delegates for their candidate after winning a skirmish with the Taft-controlled state committee.

Party leaders in Alabama are split between Taft and Eisenhower and state Chairman Claude Vardaman, an like man, predicts a "lively" contest for the state's 14 delegates. Taft followers think they will get "10 or 12" of them.

live veto power in Democratic conventions so long as the two-thirds rule prevailed.

This veto maintained for the South a large degree of control over Democratic candidates and platforms. It was not 100 percent control, but it was sufficient to guarantee Southern politicians a respectful hearing or better any time they had something to say.

FDR and James A. Farley, his political manager, maneuvered the abolition of the two-thirds rule. Farley probably has regretted it since. Mr. Roosevelt never did. His re-nominations in 1940 and 1944 would have been considerably more difficult to achieve if the two-thirds rule had been functioning.

The opening of Russell's campaign here today for the Democrat would have been considerably more than merely a move to put President Truman out of the White House and to put Senator Russell in.

Political realists believe the Southerners would settle happily this year if they just could regain control of the Democratic party organization, establish themselves in command of convention machinery — and restore the two-thirds rule.

That would restore the South's usually effective veto on presidential nominations and give Southerners their old time voice in party policy. They could go on from there in 1956.

Southern Democrats tried in 1940, 1944 and 1948 to break out of the political deadend in which they are penned. Each effort was a bit more vigorous.

This year top Democrats of the South are of a mind to bolt if Mr. Truman ticks Russell for the nomination.

The 1932 rebellion already has worked up more horsepower than any which preceded it.
